

2025 IRRIGATION REPLACEMENT PROJECT: TENTATIVE SCHEDULE

Please note that while we have a carefully planned schedule, the timeline remains flexible due to factors such as weather, ground conditions, and contractor availability. These variables may affect progress, and we appreciate your understanding as we adjust to ensure the project is completed efficiently and to the highest standard. All members will receive updates through various communication channels, including daily updates, weekly emails, and standalone communications, to keep you informed of the most current timelines throughout the season.
